Unable to guarantee training: Because our pets are living creatures, learning and training is an ongoing process. Due to the affect of the unlimited distractions, challenges and difference in environments, personalities and situations in life, the outcome of training efforts can be expected to be as individualized as each of our pets. Stay N Play Pet Ranch, Inc.'s® professional trainers work diligently to assist pet owners in their efforts to achieve the desired behaviors for each pet. We can only train, coach and assist in this endeavor and are unable to guarantee a specific behavior or consistency of that behavior in limited time.

Thank you for entrusting your pet's training with us and working with us to achieve the best possible results that breed, age, disposition, and time will allow.
